Two Local NYC Employees See Big City Excitement

LIFE IN THE BIG CITY DEPT.: Two Harrisburg employees of the New York Central railroad, armed with passes which are very fine in a case like this, went to New York City last week and got a peek at big city life, some of it from a restaurant window.

Making the trip were Earl Crabb and Bluford Womack, who went to the city last Thursday to attend a New York Central employees' credit union meeting. They returned home Tuesday.

Monday during the noon hour they were eating lunch in a Thompson's restaurant, right in front of a window that permitted them to look out on the front street.

While they were eating they saw a crowd of persons run toward the Industrial Bank of Commerce across the street.

Earl started to hurry out to see what was going on and was joined by Womack.

Police cars began driving up with officers jumping out, and about that time ambulances started arriving.

Earl asked one of the ambulance drivers what had happened and he said that there had been a bank robbery, that some persons had been shot.

About that time police started moving the crowd away and they had to get a newspaper to find out what had happened. The newspaper said that five persons had been shot and wounded during a gun battle in the bank.

WHILE THERE they saw the musical, "Fanny," which has been a sellout for months and months.

They saw two lines going to the box office—one long one and a short one. They got in the short line, which shows that we boys from the country can cope with the city fella pretty well. They got tickets, too, with only a half-dozen remaining for the performance when they got theirs.

The boys didn't see any World Series games.

SURELY CHRISTMAS cannot be so close upon us. At any rate, the first letter to Santa Claus has been received by him up at the North Pole. Santa let me look at it and I saw it was written by Billy Joe McCarty. It said:

"Dear Santa: I am a little boy nine year old. I try to be good but sometimes I get pretty grouchy, but I am trying to be better. I want a chemistry set and a printing press. Hoping to see you about the 25th of December I am Yours Truly, Billy Joe McCarty."

Dirksen Praises Eisenhower For Prosperity Without War

Senator Addresses Republican Rally At Court House

U. S. Senator Everett McKinley Dirksen, declaring the great issue in America today is peace, last night praised President Eisenhower for his achievement in maintaining a prosperity without war.

"You don't have to separate our prosperity of today from the corps," declared the senator from Pekin, Ill., who is seeking re-election, in an address at a Republican rally at the court house in Harrisburg last night.

"Anybody can get prosperity for the country when in war," he continued. "A manpower shortage develops and labor prices go up."

"The Eisenhower administration merits your support for its great work in keeping peace in America. We have had three Democratic presidents in the past 50 years and we've had three wars under them. Yes, we have 'stumbled' into war under the three but not under any of the Republican presidents during the half century."

Opponents Bemean Each Other

He declared that Eisenhower has a consecrated heart, that he knows the business of war and all its brutality, and will do everything in his power to keep the country out of war.

Dirksen charged that the principals in the opposition have no faith in each other, that Stevenson and Kefauver bemeaned each other during their battles for the presidential nomination -- "and then Harry Truman came along."

Dirksen quoted Kefauver as saying in Florida May 27 that "Stevenson would be an unacceptable package to the majority of voters," and called him a "fair weather liberal."

Dirksen said that when Kefauver was nominated for vice president, Sam Rayburn said "This is terrible."

On June 1, Dirksen continued, Stevenson said this: "I am under no illusion that the facts have any influence on my opponent, Mr. Kefauver."

Quotes Truman

He quoted Truman as making the following statements about Stevenson: "For some time I've had my misgivings about Stevenson. I just don't believe Stevenson can win. The United States has had three do-nothing presidents and if we nominate and elect Stevenson, we'll have a fourth do-nothing president."

Dirksen asked: "Do you want to entrust the affairs of 167,000,000 people with persons who bemean themselves?"

He charged the Democratic leaders with distortions and half-truths, and charged them with a "you name it and we'll promise it" attitude.

Dirksen charged Kenneth Gray,

Student Council Urges Neater Dress By Students at HTHS

The Harrisburg Township high school student council is hoping to make the HTHS one of the most appropriately dressed schools in southern Illinois.

The group expressed that the clothing need not be expensive but suitable to the occasion for which it is worn. The council encourages the girls to wear the proper school clothes such as skirts, blouses, sweaters and tailored apparel, but does not encourage shorts, slacks, bermudas or jeans except at sporting events and picnics. The council also hopes the boys will swing from "shirt tails out" to neater appearances.

Members of the council are striving to make Harrisburg high an example of good taste instead of a follower of fads.

ELECTED — Willis G. Swartz, Dean of the Graduate School at Southern Illinois University, was elected Governor of District 216, Rotary International, Wednesday at the District conference at Carmi. He succeeds Wade East of Carmi.

Death Takes William Cox, 64

William (Bill) Cox, 64, died at 11:30 p. m. yesterday at his home, 22 West McHaffey street.

Mr. Cox was a retired miner having last worked at Wasson No. 1 mine. He retired in 1951 suffering from heart and bronchial asthma and had been in poor health since that time.

He was born in Murphysboro the son of Robert and Elizabeth Cox.

Surviving are his wife, Plessie Cox, and four children: Mrs. Juanita Hollaman, Detroit, Mich.; Mrs. Hazel Park, Detroit, Mich.; Donna Anderson, Philippine Islands; and William Lewis Cox of Harrisburg; also three grandchildren and one sister, Mrs. Mary Walker of Harrisburg.

Funeral services will be Saturday at 2 p. m. in the chapel of the Harrisburg funeral home. Rev. J. D. McCarty will officiate and burial will be in the Ledford cemetery.

Hong Kong Riots Turn Against Foreign Groups

Four Persons are Killed and Scores Injured

HONG KONG (AP)—Chinese mobs turned their vengeance on foreigners today in the second day of rioting in this British colony. One mob tried to burn a man and his wife to death by drenching their car with gasoline and setting it afire.

The government sent British troops to the riot scene in Kowloon, the part of the colony lying on the mainland next to Communist China — a step Hong Kong has never taken before lest it offend the Chinese Communist government.

The rioting started between pro-Communist and pro-Nationalist Chinese refugees Wednesday in Kowloon during the Nationalist celebration of the "Double Tenth," the 45th anniversary of the founding of the Chinese Republic by Sun Yat-Sen.

Breaks Out Anew

It raged through the day and night and broke out afresh today, with Europeans the chief target of the inflamed Chinese. But the mobs also battled among themselves, stoned police, fired and looted buildings, their passions inflamed by agitators bent on spreading trouble in this precariously-situated British outpost.

Official sources said four persons were killed, two Wednesday and two today. Scores were reported injured, some 40 to 50 seriously. More than 100 persons were under arrest.

The U. S. Consulate ordered all of its employees to go directly to their homes from work today and stay off the streets until the violence ends.

The U. S. Air Force cancelled the flights of all incoming military planes until further notice and restricted all its personnel to their hotels.

Stevenson Takes Campaign To California; Says Ike Reflects Madison Avenue

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson brought a hard-hitting campaign to California today in a determined attempt to overcome President Eisenhower's popularity and capture the state's 32 electoral votes for the Democrats.

Stevenson came to California from Portland, Ore., where in a speech Wednesday night he pictured President Eisenhower as a man of good intentions, but one whose campaign statements reflected the voice of Madison Ave.

From here to San Diego Friday night, Stevenson is expected to hammer at the same idea — that the Chief Executive means well but is surrounded by men who represent "a single set of interests—they know what they want — and they get it."

TV Speech Scheduled

He will motor to San Francisco tonight to make a nation-wide radio and television address, his third in a series of similar studio talks to the country. The speech will be broadcast and televised (NBC).

This was Stevenson's second campaign trip to California and he probably will make another trip back to the state before the November election.

As his campaign along the Pacific Coast developed, Stevenson adopted an increasingly wider battling stance. He started off his campaign after the Chicago nominating convention with a fairly oblique approach to Mr. Eisenhower.

His current speeches, however, are aimed straight at the President himself. This was a source of pleasure to organization politicians on the West Coast, who believe that a free-swinging fight will generate far more interest in the Democratic cause than a scholarly statement of principles.

Was Homeward Bound from Base in England

Searching Planes Criss-Cross Atlantic South to Azores

LONDON (AP)—A U. S. Military Air Transport Service plane with 59 homeward bound American servicemen aboard vanished early today over the Atlantic Ocean between England and the Azores.

Within hours the Air Force threw its 9th Air Rescue squadron into operation and "more than a dozen" airplanes began a systematic search for the missing plane, criss-crossing the east Atlantic from southern England to the Azores.

The rescue planes included amphibians, KC97 flying tankers and British Shackleton bombers. Aircraft was called in from Prestwick, Scotland, and Orly Field, Paris, to join the search.

At least three ships in the area were alerted to look for wreckage and survivors.

The plane left the U. S. air base at Lakenheath, England, Wednesday night for a trip to Lages, in the Azores. It was last heard from 180 miles southwest of Land's End off the southern tip of England.

The big plane, a C118, the military version of the Douglas DC6 transport, was carrying nine crewmen and 50 U. S. servicemen based in England.

The Air Force at midnight alerted ships at sea to watch for the plane. The plane then was four hours overdue. It then had only an hour's more fuel.

Four U. S. Air Force planes swept the Atlantic skies this morning searching for the missing aircraft but found nothing.

An Air Force spokesman said at 7 a. m. the plane would be listed as "overdue" but that he could not confirm it was down at sea. But a wide check of possible landing spots failed to turn up any sign the aircraft had made a forced landing.

Four Oil Drilling Permits Issued For Tests in County

Trained Man For the Job

Editorial — BY BRUCE BLOSSAT
President Eisenhower obviously is trying to return the United States Supreme Court to the jurists, and to write an end to the era in which it was used too often to reward favored political figures.

The President's first appointment was Earl Warren to be Chief Justice. Warren, three-time winner as governor of California, had not served as a judge, though he had a background of legal training and had been California's attorney general.

He was chosen, however, for the immense prestige and the breadth of outlook he was expected to bring to a court theretofore troubled by dissension and conflict.

Since that time, Mr. Eisenhower has gone to the bench for his appointments.

His second was John Marshall Harlan, a distinguished eastern jurist.

Now he has reached into the New Jersey Supreme Court to lift Associate Justice William J. Brennan, Jr., to the nation's highest court.

In making these selections the President plainly sought men of some standing in the judicial world. He said flatly he did not want anyone who did not have the respect of his legal colleagues.

The Brennan appointment is interesting for other reasons. He is just 50 years old, seven years younger than the youngest man now on the Supreme Court bench. And he is a Democrat.

Mr. Eisenhower might easily have justified naming a Republican, inasmuch as the ratio on the present court, including the retiring Justice Minton, is six to three in favor of the Democrats.

He chose instead to be guided more by other factors.

Some will say his choice of a Democrat was a political act designed to woo independents and Democrats in the current election campaign. Brennan himself, who knows how and why he was approached for the assignment, says he doesn't think politics entered into it. Perhaps if the President had chosen a Republican he would have been accused of being partisan, of ignoring qualified Democrats.

In any event, from the public's standpoint the appointment seems a sound one, made in full awareness of the need to shape the Supreme Court into a tribunal supreme in judicial talent and social wisdom.

Nothing to Be Proud Of

All the words of caution from public figures, all the efforts of law enforcement officers, and all the care exercised by motorists themselves could not prevent the continuing rise of traffic deaths in America in August.

But at least these combined factors did cause the upward curve to flatten a little.

If anyone should hasten to take comfort from this modest gain, let him remember that the year's total of traffic fatalities now stands at 25,350, some eight per cent higher than for the first eight months of 1955. It is the largest toll for the first eight months of any year on record.

The driver himself is the final custodian of his safety. There are road situations, of course, where he is thrown into peril through no fault of his own. But more often than not, he can control his fate if he treats driving his car as the serious business it is.

Only the strictest adherence to that business will evidently prevent this country from hanging up the worst yearly accident total in history in 1956.

Quadrennial Sack Race

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says:
Stevenson Advisers Battle Over Adlai's Failure To Go All-Out In Attacking Ike, Poor Handling Of Press Relations; Overloaded Speech-Writers Boggling Down.

NEW YORK. — Len Hall may not know it, but while he's been goading the President, John Foster Dulles et al into greater activity, a significant battle has been going on inside the Stevenson camp which should cheer him up. The Democratic candidate and his top advisers are at sixes and sevens on at least four important problems:

1. Adlai's failure to attack Eisenhower with body blows. Advisers worry over the way he pulls his punches when it comes to Ike's solar plexus.

2. Failure to work out and follow any long-range speech-writing and campaign structure, plus lack of advance work prior to Stevenson's speeches.

3. Failure of Stevenson to come through as a person over TV as effectively as he did in 1952.

4. Failure to facilitate press relations with anywhere near the same efficiency as the press experts around Nixon and Eisenhower.

One of Stevenson's troubles is that his law partner, William Wirtz, has the last look at his speeches. He is the final editor, and Wirtz insists that there be no direct body blows at Eisenhower.

SPEECHES DELAYED TO PRESS

When the speeches reach Stevenson it's usually about three hours before delivery, and by the time he finishes tinkering with them to insert personal touches, it's late in the evening—too late for good coverage in the big eastern morning papers. At Yale the other night he got off one of his masterpieces, but it was not released in time for many morning papers.

Again he delivered a great speech before the Liberal party in New York, without benefit of much publicity.

In contrast both Eisenhower's and Nixon's major speeches are released six hours or more in advance.

Another organizational defect is the failure of Stevenson's campaign managers to give him enough time to go over his speeches in advance. President Eisenhower is coached by one of Madison Avenue's best TV experts, Robert Montgomery; he brings a make-up man down from New York to fix his face, and also works with the teleprompter operator in a rehearsal of his speech before the TV cameras cold.

It is not easy to adjust the speed of delivery to the speed of a teleprompter without practice, and Stevenson's inability to coordinate on these new-fangled mass media of politics has left him behind as an effective TV performer. Eisenhower on the other hand has mastered the techniques like an old pro. No one watching him today would dream that he is the same Eisenhower who cussed audibly at the teleprompter at Chicago in 1952 and delivered such a poor speech at Abilene, Kans., in 1952 that the Scripps-Howard newspapers described him as "running like a dry creek."

POOR SCHEDULING

One trouble is that Stevenson's campaign managers route him on a handshaking tour of a supermarket where he can greet at the most 900 people, but don't give him enough time to rehearse for television where he greets 9,000,000 people. And that television bill takes around $250,000 hard-collected funds out of Democratic coffers.

Lack of advance work has also spoiled much of Stevenson's effectiveness. Nobody bothered to arrange a grand entrance for him when he attended the second game of the World Series at Ebbets Field. Walter O'Malley, owner of the Brooklyn Dodgers, is an ardent Democrat who would have been delighted to give him the same motorcade across the ball park to the grandstand that was given Eisenhower in the opening game, but Stevenson's advance men didn't make the arrangements.

Likewise when Stevenson toured the garment district of New York nobody even bothered to notify Dave Dubinsky, head of the International Ladies Garment Workers. When a Democratic presidential candidate moves through the garment district the place goes wild. When Stevenson drove through he got an ovation, but nothing compared to what could have happened had the garment workers known in advance that he was coming.

On the other hand, when Eisenhower traveled through Brooklyn en route to Ebbets Field, the route was publicized two days in advance, and local GOP leaders had instructions to turn out the crowds. The crowds, it's true, were disappointing and not as good as Stevenson got without advance planning. But New York and Brooklyn are about 70 per cent Democratic.

WIRTZ REJECTS IDEAS

A meeting was held in New York last week between Adlai's law partner, William Wirtz, and some of the best brains of the TV-theatrical entertainment world. With the Republicans able to mobilize the advertising moguls of Madison Avenue on a commission basis, the Democrats got TV-theatrical artists—free.

Among those who volunteered were the most creative brains of Broadway: Alan Jay Lerner, author of "My Fair Lady," Oscar Hammerstein, author of "Oklahoma," "South Pacific" and other top hits; Herman Wouk, author of "The Caine Mutiny" and Louis Cowan, the CBS producer who originated the $64,000 Question. They fired idea after idea aimed at pepping up the Stevenson campaign. All were turned down by Wirtz, who doesn't want his law partner to attack Eisenhower.

Meanwhile Stevenson's speech-writers, working almost 21 hours a day, are getting bogged down. They have done a terrific job so far. But they have to grind out an average of two speeches a day while Ike's speech-writers turn out about two a week.

Finally, Stevenson suffers from the split operations of the two men in command—Jim Finnegan, his campaign manager and William Wirtz, his law partner. Finnegan is doing the music while Wirtz writes the words, and they seem to be out of synchronization most of the time.

Though Adlai started off his campaign like a pistol, he's the one who now seems to be "running like a dry creek."

Evergreen Garden Club Meets at McDaniel Home

The Evergreen Garden club met Tuesday at 10 a. m. at the home of Mrs. H. V. McDaniel who was assisted as hostess by Mrs. Dean Hill.

Upon entering the home one could see the effects of the fall season by the beautifully decorated tables in keeping with Halloween, the spicy odor of hot home-made doughnuts, coffee, cider and Cokes which the hostesses served to the 16 members and two guests present. Guests were Mrs. Nell Johnson and Mrs. Mary Cowgill, mother and aunt of Mrs. James Wells who are visiting here from Hickman, Ky.

Mrs. Louie Gaskins, president, conducted the business meeting. Announcement was made of a flower show to be held at Carbondale Sunday, Oct. 14. All members were urged to attend.

Each member brought flowers and materials for making arrangements and many lovely creations of beautiful fall flowers were displayed.

There will be no meeting in November but plans were made for the December meeting to be held at the home of Mrs. Carl Rude.

Mrs. Morris Skaggs was awarded the door prize.

Ladies' Missionary Guild Meets With Annary Empson

The Ladies' Missionary Guild of the First Christian church met recently at the home of Mrs. Annary Empson. Several oddly dressed characters revealed themselves as regular guild members.

"Thankfulness and giving" was the topic of devotion given by Mrs. Zola Sloan. The lesson concerning missions was given by Mrs. Nancy Harris.

The business meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Empson. Roll was called and dues were paid.

Selling candy was decided as a new money project for the guild. "Katherine Bieke's Golden Crumbles" have arrived and are on sale from any guild member.

Delicious raspberry fluff, coffee and Cokes were served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Naomi Rees.

Those in attendance were Mrs. Francis Brackney, Mrs. Connie Uzzle, Mrs. Shirley Wilson, Mrs. Mary Daugherty, Mrs. Vivian Harris, Mrs. Zola Sloan, Mrs. Lou Ann Yates, Mrs. Gladys Gibbons, Mrs. Nancy Harris, Mrs. Annary Empson, Mrs. Naomi Rees, Mrs. Louise McNab and Mrs. Ruth Stunson.

MR. AND MRS. JACK NOLEN cut their wedding cake following their marriage Friday, Oct. 5, at the Carrier Mills Baptist church.

Miss Yulondia Quick Becomes Bride of Jack Nolen in Simple Ceremony

In a simple but impressive ceremony performed Friday, Oct. 5, by the Rev. Ernest Ammon, Miss Yulondia Quick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orval Quick of Harrisburg RFD 2, became the bride of Jack Nolen, son of Mrs. Charlotte Nolen, also of Harrisburg.

The double ring service took place at 8 p. m. in the Baptist church at Carrier Mills.

The bride wore a street length dress of winter white wool sprinkled with gold. She wore a winter white hat and brown accessories and wore a corsage of bronze baby chrysanthemums.

Mrs. J. R. Tanner was matron of honor wearing a brown sheath dress with avocado accessories and a yellow baby chrysanthemum corsage.

Serving as best man was Darrel Quick of RFD 2, Harrisburg. Mrs. Quick chose for her daughter's wedding a grey suit with black accessories and Mrs. Nolen wore a blue dress with black accessories.

A reception was held following the wedding at the home of the bride's parents.

The bride is a graduate of the Harrisburg Township high school with the class of 1954 and is employed by the Limerick Finance Co. The bridegroom graduated from HTHS in 1953 and is with Cragg-DeVilz Furniture store in Harrisburg.

After Oct. 31 the couple will be at home in Carrier Mills.

Philathea Sunday School Class Holds October Meeting

The Philathea Sunday school class of the McKinley Avenue Baptist church met at the home of Mrs. Della McDonald, 912 Chaney, Tuesday evening.

Opening song was "When We All Get to Heaven" followed with prayer by Mrs. Roy Chamberlain. The devotion was given by Mrs. Elmer Handley who took her scripture from Tim. 2:19.

New officers were installed by Mrs. J. D. McCarty who sang "Ready For Service" with closing prayer by Lela Baker. Mrs. Reva English is the president of the class, Mrs. McDonald is teacher and Mrs. Calvin Blackman, assistant teacher.

Others present were Mrs. Evadene Woodruff, Mrs. Rev. Rankins, Mrs. Earl Robbs, Mrs. Cathleen Coker, Mrs. Essie Holloway, Mrs. Clifford Burklow, Mrs. Ernestine Brinkley, Mrs. Jesse Gibbons and Mrs. Etta Miner.

Pauline Moore Circle Holds October Meeting

The members of the Pauline Moore circle of the First Baptist church met Tuesday evening at the home of the new leader, Mrs. J. B. Clark.

During the business meeting the secretary read the names of the newly elected officers. It was voted that Mrs. Charles Swansey, a former member of the circle who recently returned from the East where her husband was stationed with the U. S. Army, be community missions chairman for the year.

Mrs. Calvin Sutton, program chairman, was in charge of the lesson "Sowing Beside All Waters." Opening song was "Come Women, Wide Proclaim," followed with prayer by Mrs. Sutton. Mrs. Sutton and Mrs. Henry Hancock presented a short playlet in conjunction with the lesson.

Mrs. Clark read the words of the song, "From Greenland's Icy Mountains," after which topics were given by Mrs. Ron Ziegler, Mrs. George Howerton, Mrs. Pat Gilley and Mrs. Sutton.

Closing song was "The Kingdom is Coming" and closing prayer was offered by Mrs. D. H. Hiller, retiring leader who was a guest. Also a guest was Mrs. Myron Clark who served as accompanist for the hymns sung.

Delicious rum pie topped with whipped cream coffee and hot tea were served to those mentioned and to Mrs. Charles Grisham.

The circle presented Mrs. Hiller with a gift in appreciation of her services as leader of the circle.

The Germans torpedoed the S. S. Lusitania on May 7, 1915, an act considered to have contributed toward the entry of America into World War I.

Members of Local O. E. S. Attend Grand Chapter Meeting

The 82nd annual session of the Grand chapter of the Order of Eastern Star of Illinois was held Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of last week at the Medinah Temple in Chicago.

Attending from Harrisburg were Mr. and Mrs. William Douglas worthy patron and worthy matron of the local chapter, Mrs. Noble Shaw associate matron, Mrs. R. C. Davenport, past grand matron of Illinois, and Mrs. E. Bishop Hill.

A banquet was held Monday evening at the P-mer House in Chicago, and the opening session was Tuesday morning. Mrs. Douglas served as page to the retiring worthy grand matron, Elfreda A. Barr of Granite City.

In the opening ceremony the pages and worthy patrons formed a star in a pentagon on the stage before the entrance of the Grand officers.

The new worthy Grand matron is Elsie K. Bruhn, Chicago, and Alvin H. Strickling of Chicago is worthy Grand patron. Associate worthy Grand matron is Betty H. Clark and associate Grand patron is Harold Greenlee. Pearl Fairchild is Grand conductress and Bertha Cell is associate Grand conductress. These officers are all of the Chicago area.

Ringgold Church Harvests $1,084 in Lord's Acre Project

"The best crop yet," declared Rev. Rowland Westervelt in discussing the Lord's Acre project by the Ringgold Presbyterian church.

Rev. Westervelt stated the 25 acres planted in mid-May had a yield of 1,032 bushels of yellow corn and the project netted $1,084 for Ringgold church, a rural Presbyterian church south of Shawneetown.

The crop was harvested Tuesday, when 12 men and five corn pickers reported to the field early in the morning and had the crop harvested before noon.

At noon families of the workers gathered for a basket dinner.

This marked the fifth Lord's Acre project by the Ringgold church and was the best of all. The second year of the project there was a net of $1,042.

A portion of the money will be used to purchase badly needed pews for the church.

Each year two men assume the responsibility of foremen for the project. Heading this year's program were Raymond Brazier and Harry Gross.

Rev. Westervelt is pastor of the Shawneetown and Ringgold Presbyterian churches and is moderator of the Egyptian Parish, composed of Presbyterian churches in Gallatin county.

Southern Illinois Historical Society To Meet Oct. 19

CARBONDALE, Ill. — A reception, tour and dinner session program have been arranged for the annual fall meeting of the Southern Illinois Historical Society at Southern Illinois University, Oct. 19, according to Mrs. William A. Pitkin, Carbondale, secretary-treasurer.

Society members will be guests at a public pre-publication reception from 3 to 5 p. m. in the University Cafeteria. The event will honor geographer Charles C. Colby, Chicago, whose new book, "A Pilot Study of Southern Illinois," will be published by the SIU University Press October 20. Following the reception there will be a conducted tour of Southern's new library building where local materials will be featured in an exhibit.

John Clifford, SIU social science librarian, will discuss "Local Historical Collections at Southern Illinois University" during the evening dinner session, outlining types of material available, kinds of additional material sought, and how collections are being used. A mu-

Finds Money Hidden While Cleaning House

ROBINSON, Ill. — A stranger walked into the office of Dan Sanford, owner of a trucking company near here and plunked down 800 one-dollar bills, three 20s and a 10.

Roy Johnson, who works part time at a grocery, had been hired by Sanford's wife to wash windows and clean up the home of Sanford's mother who is ill in a hospital.

Johnson said he found the money hidden in different places about the house.

Disclose 6,864 Mile Hour Speed by Research Missiles

LANGLEY FIELD, Va. — An apparent world speed record of at least 6,864 miles an hour has been reached by rocket-powered research missiles launched over the Atlantic from the Virginia coast.

The National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics, the government's top aviation research agency, disclosed the flights during an inspection by government and industry officials of its 100-million-dollar laboratories here today.

The four-stage rockets, used to probe the mysteries of high altitude and heat friction for design of future piloted planes and guided missiles, reached speeds at least 10.4 times the speed of sound. The 35-foot 8-inch vehicles soared to altitudes of 200 miles, within 50 miles of the all-time altitude record for rockets.

NACA officials hinted that some rockets may have gone even faster than the speeds publicly disclosed. They said they knew of no higher speeds attained by other rockets in this or any other country.

At the same time, scientists said manned aircraft able to fly more than 3,300 miles an hour, or above five times the speed of sound, "appear within the realm of relatively early attainment" although not "tomorrow."

Exit Pants Money

MIDDLETOWN, O. — Earl Margerum tried on a new pair of trousers in a men's clothing store and left his old ones in a booth while he pondered the purchase. He pondered too long. A pickpocket removed the wallet from the trousers in the booth and took the money Margerum was going to use to pay for the new pants.

A social program will feature William K. Taylor, baritone, and Robert E. Mueller, pianist, of the SIU faculty.

Mrs. Pitkin says dinner reservations are due by October 17.

Sohio to Conduct Tour of Pipeline

The Sohio Pipeline Co. will conduct a tour of its pipeline facilities Tuesday for newsmen in the area.

The tour will start at Norris City and en route to Mt. Vernon, Ind., will stop to watch a gauger by oil from a lease tank.

Following a luncheon at Mt. Vernon, the group will go to the nearby Sohio terminal, where river barges are also loaded.

The caravan will then go to Grayville, division headquarters, and probably will end at Sohio's tank farm at Albion.

Sohio has pipeline facilities in the Eldorado and West End fields and has oil picked up by truck from other fields in Saline county.

Volunteers to Help Build Road To Camping Site

CARBONDALE, Ill. — Two Carbondale construction firms, a labor union and a number of individuals will team up this weekend in a volunteer road-building project at the Education Council of 100's school camping site on Little Grassy Lake. Council membership covers the southern 31 counties of Illinois.

Clyde V. Winkler, chairman of the Council's Outdoor Education committee, announced today that the J. W. McKinney Construction company will supply a bulldozer and the Triangle Construction company a road grader for putting in a one-fourth to one-half mile stretch of road from the edge of Giant City State Park into the Council's leased acreage along the lake's southeastern shoreline.

Volunteer workers will be provided by Common Laborers Local 227, Winkler said.

Under a lease agreement with the federal government, the Council must spend $10,000 for initial development of the 570-acre outdoor education area within a year. Named "Si-Bo-Gi," an abbreviation for "Southern Illinois Boys and Girls," the camp eventually will provide supervised outdoor experiences for school children throughout the southern 31 counties and other areas of the state.

An abandoned farmhouse recently discovered on the property will be renovated to become "Lodge No. 1." The building is located on a scenic hilltop some 300 yards from the lake.

Future meetings of the Council's Outdoor Education Committees will be held at the camp site, Winkler said.

Teen Town Notes

By Joan Seright

Hi Gang! Homecoming night, Oct. 12, Teen Town will be closed. Don't forget!

On October 10 our Teen Town was represented at the quarterly meeting of area Teen Town directors and officers. This meeting was held at Cairo at 7:30 p. m. It included all Teen Towns in southern Illinois.

In the last article I left out the name of C. R. Gardner, who was a charpene. Sorry!

Thanks to these Rotary members for chaperoning: Mr. and Mrs. Lowden Pankey, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Halbersleben and John Foster.

See you next Monday at Teen Town.

There are thousands of clubs in America. Almost every city has a variety of service clubs, fraternal organizations, garden clubs, sewing clubs, study groups, Boy Scout troops, Girl Scout troops and scores of other circles of people. The rural areas have their organizations by the dozen.

People gather together because of common interests and for specific purposes. Each group has a constitution and by-laws. Each strives to meet the needs of its members or the needs of the community.

America is a better land in which to live because of these voluntary groups who work for the betterment of the community or the achievement of the group ideals. No one says the clubs have to exist nor that the purposes must be "thus and so."

The organizations exist for the people who make up the groups. People get together and organize because they need other people. We are gregarious. Few of us are "lone wolves." None of us is so independent that he can exist entirely unto himself.

The greatest source of fellowship known to man is fellowship with God, and with others who have fellowship with God. Let us seek this greatest satisfaction of "joining" with God and His children. Let us receive the group recognition we desire from God.

To Launch New Campaign for Highway Safety

CHICAGO — The National Safety Council today announced a special "back the attack" campaign as a roadblock to halt a headlong increase in traffic deaths.

The program will be launched Dec. 1 in a last-ditch effort to keep 1956 from setting a new all-time high in traffic deaths. But it will continue through 1957 in an effort to reverse a trend in traffic deaths which has climbed steadily upward for the past 18 months.

President Eisenhower in Washington urged the nation to back the campaign.

The national governor's conference has endorsed the program, and 46 states and the District of Columbia have pledged full support.

"This is no flash-in-the-pan campaign, all smoke and no fire," Council President Ned H. Dearborn said. "I believe every responsible American will agree that the traffic toll has become so shocking that it can no longer be endured by a civilized nation."

Emphasis during the campaign will be given to speeding and drunken drivers as well as to the dangers of darkness and the increased hazard to pedestrians.

Address on UN At Hi-Y Meeting

The Hi-Y chapter at HTHS held its first regular meeting Tuesday, Oct. 9. The meeting was called to order by Bryan Jones, president, and the invocation was given by the chaplain, Harold Hicks. Bill Bottomley led the group in song while Gary Karnes accompanied on the piano.

Guest speaker was Miss Alta Davis, who spoke on the U. N. The meeting was dismissed by the chaplain.

The sponsor this year is J. H. Bynum, English teacher at HTHS. Officers are Bryan Jones, president; Robert Jones, vice-president; Joe Gail, secretary; Wayne Douglas Stone, treasurer; and Harold Hicks, chaplain.

Army of Volunteers In Biggest Get-Out-the- Vote Drive in History

CHICAGO — An Army of volunteers is enlisting an army of Americans for the Nov. 6 general election in the biggest get-out-the-vote drive in history.

The volunteers are trying to persuade eligible voters to exercise their right—and their responsibility—to vote for the candidates of their choice.

The American Heritage Foundation, the major political parties and more than 140 youth, women's, business, religious and veterans' organizations are participating in the massive campaign.

The volunteers are pitting city against city and county against county in voter registration contests.

They are providing baby-sitters for housewives who want to register, and hauling prospective voters to registration counters with car pools, chartered buses and even helicopters.

Push For Registration

Except in states with registration deadlines already past, the emphasis today was on getting eligible voters signed up with the proper election officials, a United Press survey showed.

Late the volunteer groups and individual workers will turn to the task of actually getting the registered voters to the polls.

The American Heritage Foundation, which is spearheading the campaign, said the 1956 vote effort is the "biggest ever." But foundation officials said they have no specific registration goal.

Neither the Republican National Committee nor the Democratic National Committee was willing to make a prediction yet on the size of the election day turnout. They said information was too incomplete.

But it appeared that both parties were aiming at more than 80 million registrations.

Vote Record In '52

In 1952, when the registration totaled 75 million, more than 61,600,000 votes were cast — an all-time record. And despite the fact that he lost to Dwight D. Eisenhower by more than 6½ million votes, losing Democratic presidential candidate Adlai E. Steven-

Lutheran Church To Present Plaque to WSIL

A plaque for outstanding public service contributing to the religious life of the Harrisburg, Ill., area will be presented Friday, Oct. 12, 5 p. m. to station WSIL-TV by the Lutheran church—Missouri Synod, producers of the inspirational TV series, "This Is the Life." The presentation will be made to the station by Rev. B. C. Betow, of the Trinity Lutheran church, representing the church group in McLeansboro.

Rev. Betow stated that the presentation marks the beginning of the fifth consecutive year of telecasting of "This Is the Life," and pays tribute to the contribution of the television industry to the spiritual life of the country.

The program is carried as a public service on WSIL-TV every Wednesday at 9:30 p. m.

Eldorado Youth Is Elected Class President At Washington University

Bill Putnam, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Putnam of Eldorado, has been elected president of the Freshman class at Washington University, St. Louis.

Young Putnam graduated from the Eldorado Township high school with the class of 1956. He was president of the Senior class and also president of the ETHS chapter of the National Honor society. He also was active in the athletic program, starting as a varsity football lineman two years and also playing two years of varsity basketball.

There are 1200 members of the Freshman class at Washington U and Putnam was elected to the Student Council last week and Monday of this week was elected to head the class of 1960.

A pre-dental student, Putnam is enrolled in the liberal arts school.

Handicapped Workers Find Opportunity in Profit-Making Concern

Editor's Note: President Eisenhower has designated this National Employ the Physically Handicapped Week. The following is a story of an unusual way in which the physically handicapped themselves are meeting the challenge.

By ALFRED LEECH
United Press Staff Correspondent
CHICAGO — A neat little factory in the suburbs stands as a testimonial to the courage of handicapped workers and the opportunity they found in free enterprise. The Paraplegics Manufacturing Co. is no "sheltered workshop" for the physically handicapped. It's a profit-making concern in a highly competitive field, and 72 of the 80 stockholders are employees.

The workers are honorary members of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers and are paid union scale wages. The unique firm was founded five years ago, not without the problems and headaches encountered by most small businesses, plus some of its own. President and co-founder is Dwight Guilfoil, 33, a father of six. He was stricken with polio and spinal meningitis in the Air Force and gets around now in a wheel chair.

Makes Quality Material
"If we had been real smart we'd never have started this operation," Guilfoil said, smiling. "Because most of the experts said it couldn't be done. Business friends said we were crazy and social workers told us there were too many special problems."

But the company has thrived, making electronic sub-assemblies for a distinguished clientele that includes Admiral Corp., Argonne National Laboratory, Bell and Howell, Bendix Aviation, Hotpoint, Motorola, Sears Roebuck, Stewart Warner and Western Electric.

"We don't get any special consideration," Guilfoil said. "We have to bid low and meet competition. And we have to turn out quality material."

The firm normally employs about 85 persons. The office girls, the sales manager and the foreman are not physically handicapped, but virtually all the production workers are.

Ramps Replace Steps
Most of them are paraplegics in wheel chairs. But there are others — deaf mutes, blind, spastics, advanced heart cases.

The work benches are higher than normal to accommodate the wheel chairs. Ramps have replaced steps throughout the plant. Bob McShane, a former fireman whose back was broken when a wall collapsed on him in a fire in 1952, is both a production worker and a member of the board of directors.

When the firm ran into a temporary financial squeeze, McShane bought all the stock he could. "I figure my future is here," said McShane, who has a wife and four daughters. "This job has meant everything to me. I'm not just killing time here. I'm producing something useful."

"So I want to help keep the company going."

Timetable of Events for SIU Homecoming

CARBONDALE, Ill. — A timetable of events for Southern Illinois University's annual Homecoming Oct. 25-27 has been announced by Clyde Reynolds, student chairman of East St. Louis.

The gala mixture of music, floats, football and dancing will get underway with a "kick-off" assembly at 10 a. m. Thursday, Oct. 25, at McAndrew Stadium. That evening at 7:30 in Shryock Auditorium the 1956 Homecoming Queen will be crowned.

On Friday night, Oct. 26, students will gather around a bonfire for a 6:30 p. m. pep rally preceding the Homecoming play, "Night Must Fall," beginning at 8:15 p. m. in Shryock Auditorium. The Homecoming Queen's formal reception is scheduled for 10 p. m. at Woody Hall.

Biggest day will be Saturday, Oct. 27, which will open with alumni breakfasts from 8 to 10 a. m. The Homecoming parade through downtown Carbondale, featuring colorful floats and area high school bands, will begin at 10 a. m. The SIU Ag club will sponsor a chicken barbecue from 11 a. m. to 2 p. m. on the campus.

Alumni luncheons will be held from noon to 1 p. m. The football game, Southern versus Western Illinois, will begin at 2 p. m. at McAndrew Stadium. From 4:30 to 6:30 p. m., the Carbondale Lions club will sponsor a ham barbecue. Two stage show performances, a concert, and a dance will climax Homecoming activities Saturday night.

The stage show, featuring Jaye P. Morgan, the Hilltoppers, and Buddy Mareno and his orchestra, will be presented at 7 and 9 p. m. at Shryock Auditorium. Johnny Long and his orchestra will present a concert at 7 p. m. and will play for a dance from 9:30 p. m. to 12:30 a. m. in the Carbondale National Guard Armory. From 11 p. m. to 1:30 a. m., "early bird" breakfasts will be served at the University Cafeteria.

Area Sewer Plant Operators to Meet
Here Thursday, Oct. 18

A meeting of sewer plant operators and state health department officials will be held in Harrisburg Thursday, Oct. 18, it has been announced.

Communities from the southern third of Illinois are expected to be represented at the meeting, which will be held at the Harrisburg city hall, with registration at 9 a. m. A noon luncheon will be served at Wesley Center.

General and panel discussions of sewage problems will take up the biggest part of the program and the Harrisburg sewerage plant will be inspected. Expected to be in attendance are Clarence Klassen, chief engineer State Department of Public Health, and W. J. Downer, assistant engineer, both from Springfield. There will also be an election of officers.

Once Meant a Cape
"Plaid" today generally is understood to mean a certain type of pattern in cloth, but originally it was used to identify a cape or shawl worn by either men or women in the Scottish Highlands.

Early Introduction
The burro, horse, mule and ox were introduced into New Mexico after Coronado's conquest in 1540. The pack train came into general use after the first permanent settlement in 1598.

CORN MEAL BISCUITS

Yield: 12 biscuits

- 1 1/2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
- 2 1/2 teaspoons Clabber Girl Baking Powder
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 cup yellow corn meal
- 1/2 cup shortening
- 3/4 cup milk

Sift together flour, Baking Powder, and salt into a mixing bowl. Blend in corn meal. Cut in shortening until mixture resembles coarse crumbs. Add milk all at once. Stir lightly with a fork, just enough to moisten all the flour. Knead gently about 1/2 minute on lightly floured board. Roll dough 1/4 inch thick. Cut with 2-inch cutter. Place on lightly greased baking sheet. Bake in a 450° F. (very hot) oven 12 to 15 minutes.

Stratton and Austin Step up Bitter Attacks

By United Press
Gov. William G. Stratton and Democrat Richard B. Austin turned up the heat today in their battle for the governor's chair, with Stratton calling Austin a "stooge" and Austin firing back charges of "playing politics" with the highway program.

Stratton at Joliet and Yorkville Wednesday night let loose his bitterest attack so far on Austin. He said the Democratic candidate was a "stooge and front man for Chicago's worst political organization" who "has been to Springfield so little he would probably have to ask someone how to get back to Chicago."

Austin also assailed what he called "dirty work and lying" by Democratic campaigners. He said their tactics were the "most outrageous and scandalous" he has observed in 15 statewide campaigns.

Austin at Jacksonville said "it doesn't seem to have occurred to Gov. Stratton that the place to build a road is where the road is needed. And that then the thing to do is build the road so that it stays built."

Austin said the concrete on a bridge built at Beardstown under the Stratton regime is crumbling in places and "there are a lot of other stretches of highway in the state of Illinois where it looks as if Stratton could have used a highway engineer instead of a publicity man."

Austin also assailed the cost of the toll road program and said "the best way out of this, it seems to me, is to stop playing politics with roadbuilding."

Dirksen Praises GOP Prosperity Without War

Democratic congressman seeking re-election, with taking credit for about everything that had been done in congress, asking "what did the other senators and representatives do?"

Candidates Introduced

He said that the federal highway bill record showed he voted for it along with a huge majority, and was one of 372 who voted for a bill to liberalize Social Security benefits, but there was nothing in the record to show that he spoke in favor of the measures.

As to the four-lane highway through his district that Gray has been talking about, Dirksen said there is nothing in the highway bill about an expressway—that this is in the hands of the governor of Illinois.

Atty. George B. Lee presided at the meeting and introduced county candidates Elmer M. Gibbons for coroner and Quentin Bowers for circuit clerk. He called on Jack Scott, GOP nominee for congress, who declared he had had personal assurances from Eisenhower when in Washington that the president will "go all the way to see that southern Illinois gets its fair share of our prosperity."

Chapman Speaks

"When you send me to congress, you'll have a man who's on the team and will be able to obtain more for you than a man with the opposition," he stated.

John William Chapman, seeking re-election as lieutenant governor, praised the accomplishments of the Stratton administration and said the Democrats have only one issue in the state—Orville Hodge.

He said the Republicans brought the Hodge case into the open and pushed it to a quick prosecution. Then he added:

"Mr. Hodge was not appointed by the governor. He was elected by the people and was responsible to them. When the governor saw what was wrong, he set out and cut out the cancer."

Charges Stevenson Scandals

Then he brought up the time Stevenson was governor of Illinois and stated:

"There were many scandals in his administration. He had to fire his own executive secretary because he did things he shouldn't have; he changed purchasing agents five times in four years and had to fire some directors of code departments."

"Conditions were scandalous in state hospitals. Appointees at the Chicago state hospital functioned as race track bookies; they operated a loan shark business at the Elgin hospital, and at Kankakee they stole and converted to their own use a million dollars worth of meat in 4 years, averaging a quarter of a million dollars a year. Approximately 720 patients had to sleep on floors."

"Conditions have been cleaned up in the state hospital system by Governor Stratton and all patients have individual beds or mattresses. Under Stevenson our mental patients got meat only four or five times a week but under the Republican administration they are fed meat twice daily."

Others who spoke were Elmer Hoffman, running for state treasurer, and Earl C. Pollock, seeking to be elected clerk of the appellate court.

Two Brothers Hold School Children, Teachers Hostage For Six Hours

TERRAZZANO, Italy (UP) — All Italy today mourned for the gallant laborer who died leading a police assault on two mad brothers who held 100 children and three women teachers hostages for six terrifying hours Wednesday.

Sante Zennaro, 23, was shot and killed by Arturo Santato, 27, who, with his brother, Flavio Osvaldo, had threatened to kill the children and teachers unless paid $320,000 ransom.

Zennaro was chosen to lead the police charge because he helped build the school and knew the layout. He fell under a hail of bullets as he clambered through the window of the first floor classroom where the crazed brothers were holed up with their terrified hostages.

But his gallant gesture diverted Arturo, released recently from an insane asylum, and a riot policeman shot him in the head and arm.

Miss Paola Susini, one of the teachers, grappled with Arturo and prevented him from firing long enough for other riot police to smash into the room and capture him and his brother.

The brothers seized the Terrazzano school 10 miles northwest of Milan early Wednesday. They barricaded the doors and scattered leaflets which said: "Give us 200

Announce Aid to Drought Areas

WASHINGTON (UP) — President Eisenhower today announced a program of increased aid, including allocation of five million dollars more in relief funds, for farmers in drought-stricken areas.

The program also provides an increase from $1 to $1.50 per hundred pounds in the federal subsidy on feed grains sold by the government from surplus stocks to drought-stricken farmers and ranchers.

Mr. Eisenhower also said that western railroads have been asked to consider ways and means of helping farmers and ranchers in drought areas. This presumably would be through lower rates for shipment of hay and livestock from dry pastures to other areas for temporary feeding.

"Before the end of the year I plan to visit the stricken areas to make certain that the present programs are giving maximum help and that the additional steps . . . are having good results," Mr. Eisenhower said.

River Barges Collide; 7 Hurt

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UP)—Seven persons were injured when two big Mississippi River diesel towboats ran into each other about 17 miles south of here today.

The Coast Guard reported the Elmo Foster, a southbound towboat, burned to the water line.

Cmdr. John R. Sullivan, commanding officer of the Memphis Coast Guard district, said "It is presumed that the Foster is now a floating derelict."

"We are starting an immediate investigation," Sullivan said.

The Coast Guard said the Foster collided with the big, northbound Harry Truman, a Federal Barge Lines towboat.

The injured, all from the Foster, were brought back here by Frank Garavelli, operator of Memphis Supplies Inc., in his grocery supply boat.

They were taken to the U. S. Public Health Hospital here.

The Truman repeatedly hit the 121-foot Foster about 30 feet from the Foster's stern in the galley.

The Truman, pushing eight barges upriver, brought them into Memphis, the one barge, being pushed by the Foster, was tied up downriver.

Army Cook Found Guilty of Slaying

SALINAS, Calif. (UP) — A jury Wednesday night found John P. Kruse of St. Paul, Minn., guilty of first degree murder in the slaying of Anne Shay, a Connecticut coed.

The jury of seven men and five women recommended leniency. That means the 21-year-old Army cook will be sentenced to life imprisonment.

The jury also returned a verdict of guilty on a rape charge.

Kruse will be sentenced on Oct. 25.

Kruse was accused of raping and assaulting the 20-year-old coed while on a date in Monterey, Calif., last July 28.

Verdict of Suicide

SALEM, Ill. (UP) — A coroner's jury has returned a verdict of suicide in the death of E. C. Scoles, 66, Salem, who had been a semi-invalid for almost 10 years.

Scoles, a retired railroad worker, was found dead Wednesday in his garage of a 22-caliber pistol wound.

million lire or we shall show no mercy to the children."

They tied the hands of their captives and during the long hours threatened to blind the children with sulphuric acid, shoot them or blow up the entire building with two home-made bombs.

Israel, Jordan Troops Battle Along Frontier

NATHANYA, Israel (UP) — Israel announced today its army had inflicted "heavy losses" on Jordan's Arab Legion in an 8½-hour battle that swirled along 12 miles of the frontier Wednesday night and early this morning.

Unofficial reports said 30 to 40 Jordanians were killed in Israel's retaliatory attack against the Jordan border fortress of Kalkilya. In addition there was a series of attacks against border villages that would boost the toll higher.

Israel said its own army suffered nine dead and 12 wounded in the fighting, heaviest in the Holy Land since end of the Palestine war in 1948. Jordan said Israel used bombing planes and heavy artillery in the massive attack.

Reinforcements Cut Off

An Israeli army spokesman said the Arab Legion sent reinforcements of battalion strength—about 1,000 men—to the scene of the Israel attack at Kalkilya but that Israeli troops cut off their approach and inflicted heavy casualties.

The Israeli army moved out of Nathanya across the plain of Sharon where Joseph was once sold to the Ishmaelite traders for 10 pieces of silver and attacked the big Jordan fortress around 3 p. m. EDT.

The Jordanians, smarting under past Israeli retaliation raids, apparently were waiting and a major battle developed. Israel's army spokesman announced early today the Israeli army captured and destroyed the fortress before returning.

A cease fire finally went into effect after several false starts.

Court Rules 'Wages of Sin' Are Taxable

WASHINGTON (UP)—The U. S. Tax Court has ruled the "wages of sin" are taxable.

The court handed down the ruling in finding that a Chicago playgirl owes the government $27,430 on her earnings over a 12-year period.

The court's opinion said playgirl Blanche E. Lane filed no income tax returns for the years from 1940 to 1951.

But the opinion said during those years "she was a prostitute and a keeper of a house of prostitution and derived income from these activities together with the legitimate rental of part of her premises . . ."

"We gather that her contention is that the wages of sin are exempt from taxation . . ." the court said. "This contention is not tenable."

The court also disclosed that one of Blanche's "legitimate tenants" was an income tax consultant.

Former Karbers Ridge Resident Killed in Accident

ELIZABETHTOWN, Ill. (Special) — Guy Hale Jr., 29, former Karbers Ridge resident, was killed by a car in New York City at 10:30 p. m. Monday after he got off a bus.

Police are investigating the accident which killed the Shell Oil Co. accountant. No charges have been filed.

Surviving are his wife; two children; his mother, Mrs. Velma Hale of Golconda, and two sisters, Mrs. Lloyd Meyers of Golconda, and Mrs. Esdon Jerrels of Sparks Hill.

Funeral will be in East Alton. Burial will be in Lindale Memorial Garden in Eldorado.

Auto Official Gives Up $286,000 to Accept Post with Ford

DETROIT (UP) — James J. Nance, former president of Studebaker-Packard Corp., is going to give up $286,000 in order to become a Ford Motor Co. vice president.

Ernest R. Breech, chairman of the board of Ford, announced Wednesday that Nance was taking a job with the giant auto firm as vice president of marketing.

When Nance left Studebaker-Packard Aug. 7 he was given a $286,000 settlement of his $150,000 a year contract. But, the settlement stipulated Nance could not collect the money if he took competitive employment.

UNDER SHADOW — Because Queen Soraya of Iran has failed to bear him an heir in five years, Shah Mohammed Riza Pahlevi may be forced under Islamic law to divorce his beloved wife or take a second wife. The queen is pictured as she recently arrived in Rome without the shah. They were married in 1951, two years after he divorced Egyptian Princess Fawzia, sister of ex-King Farouk, because she had failed to give him an heir.

Mattress Catches Fire

A mattress caught fire at the home of Kenneth Howton, 321 South Granger street, at 6:55 last night and the fire department was called. Fire Chief L. G. Martin said damage was confined to the bed. The blaze origin was not determined, he added.

Loan Official Testifies He Aided Primary at Hodge Request

CHICAGO (UP) — A savings and loan official testified today that he contributed $6,800 for political campaigns in the 1956 Illinois primary at the request of Orville Hodge former state auditor convicted of fraud.

Charles O. Mensik head of a group of savings and loan associations, testified before the Senate Banking Committee, which is investigating banking aspects of the scandal which sent Hodge to prison.

Mensik testified he also held a $200,000 mortgage on Hodge's luxury apartment hotel in Fort Lauderdale, Fla. He said he made the mortgage at Hodge's request.

Mensik said he also bought at Hodge's request "six or seven" mortgages on small homes built at Alton, Ill. by a construction firm in which Hodge had an interest.

The savings and loan official said the total purchase amounted to between $65,000 and $75,000, on which he waived his 1 per cent commission as a "favor" to Hodge.

Mensik said he also bought 100 shares in the Elmwood Park Bank and became a bank director at Hodge's request. He said he paid $2,900 for the stock.

He said he thought Hodge, as a public official, merely was trying to "strengthen" the bank. He did not know, he said, that Hodge had stock in the bank, and allegedly had closed "the bank's predecessor in a scheme to gain an interest in it."

Mensik said $4,000 of the $6,800

political contribution in last April's primary was earmarked by Hodge for "getting out the vote of young people" in the primary, in which there were few Republican contests.

Mensik said he thought Hodge was interested in getting out new voters "as a public service."

He said Hodge told him the remaining $2,800 "could be used to help the campaigns of members of both parties who were friendly to the savings and loan business."

Mensik said he paid the $4,000 to an advertising agency known as Commercial Broadcasters. Actually, he said, he gave the check to a messenger sent by Hodge.

Previously, Hodge had claimed that the $6,800 contribution came from his own personal funds.

Eldorado High Homecoming Starts Today

Senior Class Play
Opens Festivities;
To Crown Queen

Homecoming activities at the Eldorado Township high school started this afternoon at 1:15 and will continue until late Friday night.

Included on the two-day program are the Senior class play, coronation ceremonies, homecoming parade, football game and dance.

This afternoon at 1:15 the first showing of the Senior class play, "A Date With Judy," was given for grade and high school students and at 7:30 p.m. the play will again be presented.

Following tonight's performance of "A Date With Judy" will be the revealing of the Homecoming Queen and coronation ceremonies. Friday afternoon the parade will be staged. At 7:30 p.m. Eldorado hosts Carmi in the Homecoming football game and following the game the Freshman class is sponsoring a dance.

There are five candidates for Homecoming Queen—Judy Bramlet, Judy Butler, Judy Lanham, Mary Jo Davis and Sue Holbrook.

Senior members of the football squad to participate in the coronation ceremonies will be Co-Captains Wilbur Mosby and Martin Fequay, Donald Gwaltney, Jack Mitchell, Gary Phelps, Richard Overton and Donald Kingery.

Also taking part will be Little Miss Marcia Vogelpohl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Vogelpohl and Master Jimmy Menzie, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Menzie.

Soloist for the coronation ceremonies will be Jon Montgomery, accompanied at the piano by Linda Tison.

The parade will form at the high school and led by the band, letter girls and color guard, will proceed to the downtown section, stopping at the intersection of Locust and Organ streets where a short pep meeting will be held.

The ball game, pitting unbeaten Eldorado against once defeated Carmi, is listed to start at 7:30.

At halftime the Queen and members of the Court will be presented to the crowd and prize winning floats displayed.

Then comes the dance, to close out the two-day Homecoming at Eldorado.

In the small village of Winston, in Monroe County, a large farm was run by Elijah Masterson. Gnarled from years of toil in his wide fields, Masterson was close-lipped, not given to idle conversation or unnecessary contact with his neighbors. He had been in Winston for some 52 years.

Masterson owned four tractors, of which two could be fitted quickly with small curving blades, helpful in clearing roads of light debris. Also on the farm were two heavy trucks and one pickup truck. Masterson, his wife, and two husky sons had scored the pleas of civil-defense recruiters to enlist in any civil-defense activity. He did not want any trouble, Masterson said; all he wanted was to tend his fields and mind his own business.

The civil defense surveyor informed Masterson that he would be needed only in the event of an actual bombing. Masterson ordered the civil defense representative off his property.

Heated words followed. Masterson was told that in an attack his equipment would be taken, by force if necessary.

Then the attack. The firestorm. The "scraping of the supply barrel."

Two men from Winston, checking their lists of equipment in the township, drove out to Elijah Masterson's farm to inform him and his sons to drive their badly-needed equipment to Winston, where it would be rushed to Harrington. Masterson refused.

Masterson ran the two men off his farm at the point of a shotgun. The sheriff and four men drove back to Masterson's farm. Questions, quiet conversation, even pleas.

"I don't understand you, Elijah," the sheriff said. "You've always been a right good citizen of the town. Can't you understand that a lot of people in the city are dying, and that we need every truck and tractor we can get? You'll get signed receipts for everything. You haven't a thing to lose!"

Masterson, glowering, tight-lipped. "Always minded my own business, sheriff. I never asked nobody for help; nobody's got no call to come hollering out here and take my stuff if I don't want it to be given."

The sheriff showed his exasperation. "Elijah, I've told you and told you that people are hurt and dying. They need this stuff, and by law I can take it. I don't want to go to that extent unless you force me to."

"Ain't nobody takin' my stuff," Masterson spat. "This here two barrels of buckshot says so. Get offa' my land!"

The sheriff spun around, calling to the men who had accompanied him. "Get out to those barns, and pick up the two large trucks and the two tractors. Bring 'em down here to the drive."

The four men hesitated, looking at Masterson's glowering face and the now-rasied shotgun.

"Don't worry about that," the sheriff said. In one sweeping motion he pulled his service revolver from his hip, moved forward suddenly and knocked the muzzle of the shotgun to the ground. The sheriff's revolver pointed at the farmer, and he grasped the shotgun, pulling it by force from Masterson's hands.

The trucks and the tractors were lined up at the driveway leading to the highway. "Jim! Come over here," the sheriff called to one man. "Make out a complete voucher for this equipment."

With the voucher form completed, the sheriff scribbled his name at the bottom, and threw it at Masterson's feet.

Masterson's sons were in their twenties, husky young men. Muscles and hands were required in Harrington to clear roads, to lift emergency pipelines, to dig for trapped people, to carry stretchers, to load and unload supply trucks, to do a million things which can be done only by human muscle.

"Into the truck," ordered the sheriff. "You two boys are as strong as bulls, and the people in Harrington need husky people."

"Who do you think you are...?" "I've had all the guff I intend to take from you people!" shouted the sheriff. "Maybe you'll understand this language!"

The muzzle of the .38 Police Special was unwavering. There was the unmistakable click of a hammer drawn back.

The sheriff was in a white fury. "Get into that truck. If I hear one more word from any of you, I'll put a bullet right in your belly. Now get moving!"

Dust swirled around Masterson as the trucks and tractors drove off, followed by the sheriff's white-starred car.

In town again, the names of the sons were added to a special list; a list, fortunately for the science of the town, bearing few other names. The trucks pulled up on Main Street, were quickly filled with dozens of farmers, their families and hired hands, and volunteers from the village.

The truckloads of men followed

Shy Beauty Drops Out of Miss World Contest

LONDON (U.P.) — A shy, 20 year old New Zealand beauty said today she dropped out of the "Miss World" contest to be held here next Monday because "I don't want to parade in a bathing costume."

Honey-blond Jeanette de Montalk, the 33-23-35 "Miss New Zealand," said:

"I don't want to parade in a bathing costume before hundreds of people, and I don't have the sort of clothes to compete with the officially sponsored girls."

She said the contest she won in New Zealand was not actually a beauty contest.

"It was decided on charm, personality, intelligence and other things rather than mere appearance," the girl said.

"I did wear a bathing suit, but it was a local affair on a beach where everybody else was dressed the same way. I am probably being very silly, but this seems completely different."

other convoys laden with blood and medical supplies, and passed the outboard convoys with their white-faced wounded.

Then the trucks arrived at the aid check points, were waved through to the assembly areas, and the men broken down into labor gangs. Labor gangs, with willing, strong hands. Many soon to be blistered painfully.

Unbeaten Eagles Meet Carmi in Homecoming Tilt Friday Night

The Eldorado Eagles, unbeaten in four starts this year, meet the once defeated Carmi Bull Dogs at Eldorado Friday night.

And, in addition to wanting to extend their winning streak, the Eagles will have other reasons for going all out to win from Carmi. In the first place, it's Homecoming and all other activities take a backseat to a gridiron victory.

And Carmi has won the last three games played by the two schools. Eldorado has to go back to 1952 to claim a victory over Carmi. That year the Eagles won a thriller, 26-21. The next three years found Carmi the victor. Carmi won 27-7 in 1953, 34-0 in 1954 and 27-13 in 1955.

Feuquay Still Out

In the past four homecoming games, Eldorado has won two, lost one and tied one. In 1952 Eldorado won from Cario 34-13, the 1953 homecoming game was a 20-7 loss to Harrisburg, in 1954 Eldorado defeated West Frankfort, 20-14, to make homecoming complete and last year the Eagles and Benton Rangers battled to a stand-off, 14-14, in Eldorado's homecoming battle.

So Friday night Eldorado will be hustling to stay in the ranks of the unbeaten, to dump Carmi after three unsuccessful tries and to put a winning touch on homecoming activities.

Eldorado Coach Al Adams reports the Eagle squad is hampered by injuries. Marty Feuquay, co-captain and backfield performer deluxe, is still out of action with a fractured collar bone. Marty was injured about two weeks ago.

Web Mosby, co-captain and guard, is hobbling from injuries received last week and the week before.

Gary Phelps, linebacker and the team's best punter, had to be helped off the field last Friday and hasn't practiced this week.

And Bill Smith, reserve half-back, lost a couple of teeth in scrimmage Tuesday.

However, the Eagles will still enter the game favored to win.

Carmi is also under par and will be without the services of quarterback Bobby Setser who shot himself in the foot Sunday afternoon.

Reports from Carmi are that Setser had gone north of Carmi on the Little Wabash river Sunday afternoon for target practice. While loading his .22 caliber pistol it was accidentally discharged, the bullet entering the top of his left foot and coming out near the base of the little toe.

Although there were no broken bones, Setser will be out of action indefinitely.

In last week's 27-0 Carmi win over Albion Setser scored three of the TDs. Carmi's other victories have been over Johnston City and Lawrenceville. The lone defeat was administered by Benton.

Army Hopes for Upset Victory Over Michigan

NEW YORK (AP) — Coach Earl (Red) Blaik is banking on "everything going right" for an upset when his Army football team travels to Ann Arbor, Mich., on Saturday for its important game with Michigan, the nation's 10th ranked team.

The Cadets have won both of their 1956 starts over opposition considered quite a few pegs below Michigan. However, Blaik thinks his team can defeat Michigan if the Wolverines haven't gotten over their tough 9-0 loss to second-ranked Michigan State last Saturday.

The Cadets currently are ranked 11th in the nation off victories over Virginia Military and Penn State—the first a rout and the second a squeaker. Michigan whipped UCLA, the Pacific Coast champion last year, 42-13, in its only other start.

Galatia Wins Cross Country Meet

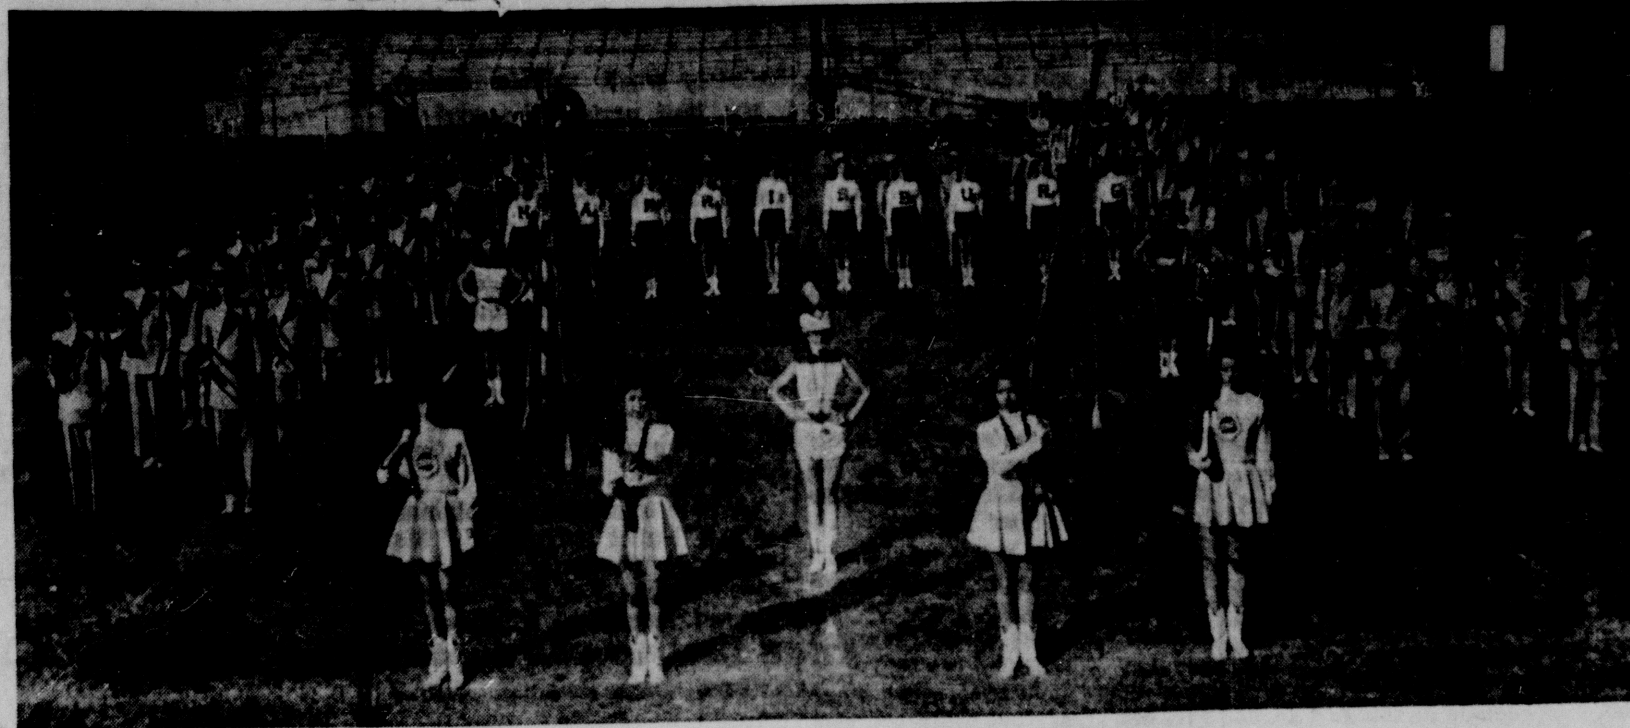

Galatia won a three-school cross country meet held at Christopher Tuesday afternoon.

Galatia scored 30 points, Mounds Douglass was second with 44 and the host school scored 58. In cross country the lowest number of points wins.

A Mounds Douglass runner crossed the finish line first in the good time of 9 minutes, 43 seconds. Not far back was Ken Cockrum of Galatia, timed at 9:49.

Other finishers for Galatia were Wickham fifth, Griffin sixth, McFarland eighth and Odle ninth. Also running for Galatia, but not in the scoring were Meredith and Hankins.

Next Thursday, Oct. 18, Christopher will come to Galatia for a dual meet.

THE HTHS BAND always puts on a fine performance at halftime intermission of the football games, and something extra special can be looked forward to at Homecoming. This year's band will take a big part in all Homecoming festivities, including leading the parade Friday afternoon and the halftime performance Friday night. In upper photo Band Director Marshall Cotran has the band in a block "H" and below is the Drum Majorette Joy Taylor, center, and twirlers Janice Stiff, at left, and Judy Wells.

Stengel Ushers In New Youth Era for Yankees In Winning World Series

By LEO H. PETERSEN
United Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK (AP) — Casey Stengel ushered in a new era for the New York Yankees today and it promises to be as glorious as the old.

Monarchs of the baseball world again after a two-year interlude, the Yankees owed their belief in or not World Series victory over the Brooklyn Dodgers to the young pitchers who caused Stengel so many sleepless nights during the American League season.

Happy as they were over the baseball title being returned to their league, their American League rivals were stunned by the brilliant pitching which wrapped up the Series for the Yanks. For, it bodes only another long continuous string of Yankee successes in the league—and probably in the World Series as well.

Yankee pitching looked like the weak spot that would turn the Series in favor of the Dodgers when they scored 6-3 and 13-8 victories in the first two games. Even Whitey Ford's third-game triumph didn't really change matters because the young southpaw actually is regarded as the "last of the old guard pitchers."

Then It Started

But then 26-year old Tom Sturdivant came through with the chips down, 27-year old Don Larsen turned in his epic perfect game, 25-year old Bob Turley pitched a brilliant four-hitter in a 1-0, 10-inning loss and 23-year old Johnny Kucks climaxed it all with Wednesday's series-clinching, 9-0, three-hitter.

The Yankees' youth movement victory was headed by the pitchers but it was significant that two of Wednesday's four homers were hit by Casey's younger players. Elston Howard and Bill Skowron followed Yogi Berra's consecutive two-run blows off Don Newcombe with the drives which made the game a rout and they, too, have now played for their first world championship team.

The Yankees had dropped six straight games at Ebbets Field in the last two series but they went off on top in the first inning on Wednesday and Kucks kept them out in front all the way. By the time the Yankee sluggers finished their bombardment, they had handed the Dodgers the most humiliating seven-game defeat since the St. Louis Cardinals wound up the 1934 Series with an 11-0 win over the Detroit Tigers.

The goat of the Series, of course is the ill-starred Don Newcombe, who simply cannot seem to win "the big one" that will stamp him as a great pitcher. Poor Newk, routed by six runs in 1-2-3 innings of the second game, fell behind on Berra's first two-run homer in the first inning and was a pathetic figure as he trudged off the mound after Howard's fourth-ining homer put the Yankees ahead, 5-0.

Fourth Series Loss

A 27-game winner during the National League season with a 27-12 won and lost record Newcombe suffered his fourth straight World Series loss to the Yankees.

Berra, with his record-setting 10 runs batted in for the Series, was another key Yankee here along with the ever-dangerous Mickey Mantle and clutch playing Billy Martin and Gil McDougald. Shining above them all, of course, was Larsen but even old Enos Slaughter, benched in favor of Howard Wednesday, had his early heroics to help him forget his six-game fielding worries.

In defeat, the Dodgers presented heroes in pitchers Sal Maglie, Don Bessent, and Clem Labine, in addition to Duke Snider, Gil Hodges and Jackie Robinson. It was, basically, an old team which won the National League pennant with the help of Maglie's tired old arm and it simply could not cope with the younger Yankees once Stengel's kid pitchers straightened out.

Janitor Removes Ring Defying Doctors, Fire Dep't

CHICAGO (AP) — A janitor came to the rescue of doctors of three hospitals and the Chicago Fire Department in removing a ring from the finger of a little girl.

Darlene Woodard, 7, slipped a stainless steel band over her little finger Wednesday and then couldn't remove it.

Doctors at Provident, Cook County and Illinois Research hospitals were unable to slip the ring from the finger. Surgical instruments and even soap and water failed.

Then a Fire Department rescue squad tried its luck, but was unsuccessful.

Eight hours after Darlene slipped on the ring, Francis Coughlan, building engineer at Illinois Research, said he might have something in the basement that could help. He found a pair of "diagonal pliers" and snipped off the band.

Western Defeats SIU In Cross Country

CARBONDALE, Ill. (AP) — Western Illinois State College won its third cross country race Wednesday against Southern Illinois University, 26-29.

Fred Sandoval of Western finished first, with Richard Gregory of SIU second.

Western now has 3 wins and 2 losses while the meet was the first of the season for SIU.

Police Hunt Teen-Age Youth in Ice-Pick Murder

CHICAGO (AP) — Police hunted today for a teen-age youth in the ice-pick murder of a middle-aged high school librarian who managed to give a brief account of the stabbing before she died.

The victim was Miss Mildred Hayes, 46, a librarian at St. Ignace High School and a native of Staunton, Mass.

Miss Hayes said she was returning from a shopping trip Wednesday night when the youth halted her in front of her west side home. The woman said she screamed as the youth grabbed her, and then was stabbed in the back.

Jets Collide, Pilot Missing

SHEBOYGAN, Wis. (AP) — One pilot parachuted to safety and another was missing and presumed dead after a blazing mid-air crash of two F86 Sabre jets over Lake Michigan.

Planes and ships continued to scan the choppy waters near here early today as survival hopes waned for the missing pilot, Capt. Carleton Berry, 38, Bloomington, Ill.

Lt. Kenneth Hughes, 21, Williamsburg, Ohio, was rescued by the ore carrier Ernest T. Weir about three hours after the crash. Hughes stayed aboard the Weir to direct the search for Berry.

The jets collided on a routine gunnery mission. The pilot of the plane towing targets said one of the jets caught fire, but both pilots bailed out and hit the water safely.

The stricken planes were based with the 62nd Fighter Interceptor Squadron at O'Hare Field in Chicago.

Wid Mathews, Gallagher Quit As Cubs Officials

CHICAGO (AP) — James Gallagher resigned as business manager and Wid Mathews resigned as director of player personnel of the last-place Chicago Cubs today.

Announcements of both resignations were issued through the Cubs' office. Owner Philip K. Wrigley was meeting today with Cubs officials in his downtown office.

A onetime Chicago sports writer, Gallagher has been connected with the Cubs in various executive capacities since 1940. He served for a time as general manager of the National League club.

The resignations were announced separately by the Cubs' office, first Gallagher's and then that of Mathews, who has been director of player personnel since February, 1950.

Iowa Leads Big Ten Offense

CHICAGO (AP) — Purdue dominated the individual statistics, but Iowa was the team leader after three Big Ten football games so far this season.

The Boilermakers' Mel Dillard was first in rushing and in total offense with 120 yards gained, while his teammate, Len Dawson, ranked first among the passers with a .538 completion average for 102 yards, good for second in total offense.

Iowa, by virtue of its four touchdowns against Indiana, was the leader in offense and second in defense to Michigan, which allowed Michigan State a scant 143 yards in its only game.

Erich Barnes of Purdue was the pass reception leader with three catches for 55 yards and one touchdown. Dick Borstad of Minnesota was first in scoring with a touchdown and three conversions.

WSIL to Telecast Illinois-OSU Game

The Illinois-Ohio State Big Ten football game at Champaign Saturday will be telecast regionally via the NBC with kickoff time at 12:30 p. m. CST, it was announced today by Commissioner K. L. (Tug) Wilson at Chicago. The game will be telecast locally by Station WSIL-TV.

This will be the second conference game in a series of five to be telecast regionally. The Iowa-Indiana game Sept. 29 opened the series. The remaining three games will be announced later.

Eisenhower Denies Plans to End Draft been taking free Caribbean cruises on ships of the publicly owned Panama Line.

Said he believes that the management of U. S. domestic affairs is the main issue in the present political campaign.

Said he will have his promised general medical checkup sometime before the end of this month. Again urged all eligible Americans to register to vote in the Nov. 6 election.

Indicated he hasn't yet made up his mind on continuing aid to Yugoslavia. He must decide by Oct. 16.

Job Prevents More Trips

On the political front, Mr. Eisenhower said he is not ready to write off the South as far as Republicans are concerned in the Nov. 6 election.

He said that would be like saying there is a section of the country in which he has no interest. But he said he has no definite plans at present to campaign in the South where four states went Republican in 1952.

Centralia Here Friday in HTHS Homecoming Tilt

Benton Meets Herrin, Also in South Seven Contest

By United Press
Powerful Centralia, which turned back previously unbeaten Murphysboro in convincing fashion last week, travels to Harrisburg Friday night in an effort to keep its victory string alive in a South Seven football contest. It will be Harrisburg's Homecoming tilt.

In another South Seven contest down south, Benton meets Herrin, the defending champ which has had rough going this year. The other three South Seven teams play outside the loop, West Frankfort at Murphysboro, Marion at Johnston City and Mt. Vernon at Fairfield.

Undefeated Eldorado is host to Carmi in another important southern Illinois game.

Other southern Illinois games are Du Quoin at Anna-Jonesboro, Elksville at Pinckneyville, Carterville at Sesser, Carbondale at Chester and Cairo at Metropolis.

A North Egypt Conference feature pits Salem, favorite for the crown, against Mount Carmel's Golden Aces.

Litchfield and Shelbyville, which have taken charge of the Midstate Conference race by dumping defending champion Pana, meet Kincaid and Hillsboro respectively.

Champaign's mauling Maroons collide with undefeated Danville in an important Big 12 Conference encounter.

The tussle could well decide the Big 12 championship. Champaign has piled up 218 points in demolishing four straight opponents in non-conference play this season, and it still has not permitted the opposition to cross its goal line.

Danville also has racked up four foes, rolling up 98 points while allowing the opposition 13.

Newcombe, Missing After Series Defeat, Will Join Japanese Tour

COLONIA, N. J. (AP) — The wife of Brooklyn Dodger pitcher Don Newcombe said today that she has been in touch with her missing husband and that they are "packed and ready to leave" for the Japanese tour with the club.

Newcombe came home briefly after he was knocked out of the box in the fourth inning of Wednesday's final World Series game and then left. He did not return home all night.

Newcombe's wife told police, however, that she knows where he stayed Wednesday night and expected to hear from him momentarily. Newcombe contacted her during the night.

Timber Leaflet Stresses Need For Planting of Private Acres

Illinois, with less than 1% of the nation's commercial forest areas, has over 5% of the tree planting job. This is one of many facts pointed out today by L. P. Neff of Harrisburg, Ill., Shawnee National Forest Supervisor, in releasing a new leaflet on the forest situation in Illinois. "The planting job is pretty well along on the National Forest," Mr. Neff said, "but there are still an estimated 24 million acres of private land in the state that should be planted to trees."

The new leaflet, entitled Forest Information About Illinois, was published this month by the North Central Region of the Forest Service, U. S. Department of Agriculture. It was compiled from the preliminary report of the Timber Resource Review, a 3 year nationwide study made by the Forest Service in collaboration with State Foresters, forest industries and other public and private organizations.

Real Challenges

There are some bright spots in the Illinois forestry picture according to Mr. Neff, but he said "there are also some real challenges to foresters and forest land owners. Tree growth in Illinois exceeds the amount cut each year, but over 10% of the growth is lost through fire, insects, disease and other destructive agents. Over 75,000 acres have been planted to trees but there is still 30 times that area in need of planting. While Illinois can probably never produce enough pine and softwoods to meet its industry needs for these species it should be possible to supply more than enough hardwoods to meet the demand by industry. About 3-4 of the hardwoods used in Illinois are now imported."

The Forest Service estimated in the Timber Resource Review report that by 1975, only 19 years from now, the nation's timber requirements will increase 30 to 40 percent. They will double by the year 2000 according to this report. To meet this expected need will necessitate raising the annual timber growth from today's 47 billion board feet to between 60 and 100 billion board feet, or possibly more. The report points out that there is enough forest land to do this, but it will take a level of forest practice much higher than most lands are now getting.

Small Owners Control Most

Forestry on public lands and on forest industry lands is reasonably good, but these represent only about 40% of the forest land in the nation, only 10% in Illinois. On the small private ownership the situation is less favorable. In the Central States, including Illinois, only 45% of recently cut-over areas on these ownerships are being left in condition for satisfactory future timber production.

Only 226,000 acres of Illinois' forest lands are in public ownership (about 200,000 acres of this in the Shawnee National Forest) and only 10,000 acres are owned by wood using industries. The other 3,702,000 acres (over 90% are controlled by small private owners, Mr. Neff praised the good job being done in providing forestry advice and service to owners of small forest properties by the farm foresters of the State Division of Forestry, the extension foresters of the University of Illinois Extension Service and others. He indicated, however, that the job of reaching 130,000 different owners would take a great many years with the small number of foresters now employed in these programs.

"Anyone interested in obtaining the new leaflet may do so," Mr. Neff said. Requests for it and other Timber Resource Review material should be addressed to the Forest Supervisor, Harrisburg National Bank Building, Harrisburg, Ill.
